

What is CALiO™?

CALiO™, the Child Abuse Library Online, is a service of National Children's Advocacy Center. CALiO™ is one of the largest professional resource collections available today, providing access to published knowledge, educational materials and resources related to child maltreatment. CALiO™ is freely accessible to anyone with Internet Access and is open to medical professionals, law enforcement personnel, prevention professionals, educators and others who are not associated with a children's advocacy center.

You can locate this digital library by going to www.calio.org. From there you have access to thousands of full text publications, as well as audio and video presentations through the keyword searchable, CALiO™Collections. CALiO™ also still provides the individual collections of resources including statistics, Poly-victimization, bibliographies, Research-to-Practice, International, and many more from the Resources dropdown menu.

Within the Beyond CALiO section you have access to over 40 Open Access journals and over 30 databases and digital collections. This section also provides links to over 70 agencies serving victims, their families, and professionals.

The easy to locate login box provides access for registered CAC staff and MDT members to the restricted sections of CALiO™.

Located in the restricted section are CALiO™SuperSearch, 1,500 journals, the complete collection of journals from the American Psychological Association, and CALiO™Collections all in one easy-to-use interface.

Also included are Special Collections of resources that provide quick access to full text of numerous scholarly publications by topic area or researcher.

Access to the Foundation Directory Online is also provided within the Grant Writing Resources section.

In addition to the large assortment of electronic resources available in CALiO™, a research librarian is available to assist with searches of the literature, bibliographic assistance, article retrieval, and many other services.

The librarian may be contacted by telephone, email, instant chat, and online information request form.

All of these contact points may be found under the Ask a Librarian or the Get Help sections.
